

Tells Her Experience To Benefit Others

Mrs. Dunlap Send a Letter Addressed to the Readers of the Paper.

A sense of duty to others who might suffer as she had impelled Mrs. R. C. Dunlap of DeKalb, Mo., to send the following signed statement to the St. Joseph (Mo.) News-Press:

"The readers of the News-Press, especially those suffering from gallstones, stomach trouble and appendicitis, will find in Fruita's and Traxo's permanent cure. After suffering for three years the most excruciating pain from gallstones I found this wonderful remedy and am now in perfect health and have been for almost four years. Never have any symptoms of the old trouble. I had been told by three doctors that nothing but an operation would save me. I know several who have undergone an operation but still have gallstones. This medicine is an oil which softens the stones and cures the liver. It can be bought at any drug store.

"Fruita's is an intestinal lubricant that softens the congested masses, disintegrates the hardened particles that cause so much suffering, and expels the accumulation to the patient's great relief. Traxo is a tonic-alterative that acts on the liver and kidneys, stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion, and removes bile from the general circulation.

"Fruita's and Traxo are prepared in the Plaus laboratories at Monticello, Ill., and arrangements have been made to supply them through representative druggists. In Honolulu they can be obtained at Benson, Smith & Co.—Adv.

PUPILS INVITED TO ATTEND BABY WEEK EXHIBITS

School children of the city will have the following letter read to them this week, as part of the educational work for Baby Week:

"The Baby Welfare Committee invites all the pupils above the fourth grades of all the schools in Honolulu to visit the exhibits which are to be held at the Palama Settlement gymnasium at the junction of King and Liliha streets. They will open on Monday, April 24, and continue all the week. Everything is free.

"We want everyone to learn all they can about babies at these exhibits—how to keep them clean, what to feed them, what are the best playthings for them, the best kinds of clothes, how to take care of their eyes, and many other things. The boys can learn how to make furniture out of common boxes.

"Many babies of all races are born every year in Honolulu, but ever so many die before they are a year old. The older people and the young people must help save these babies. Many of you help your mothers by taking care of your little brothers and sisters. Come to Palama Settlement one afternoon during the week beginning April 24, and hear what the doctors and nurses tell you are the best for 'baby.' Read the charts that will be hanging on the walls. Babies won't talk, they can only cry when they are not happy. Come to learn what are some of the troubles if your baby cries so much.

"A nurse will show you how to bathe and dress a baby properly; what is the correct way to feed it; and how to make some of the best kinds of foods. Look at the pictures of the cottages that are so sunny and airy for the babies, so much better than large, dark tenements.

"You can do much for the helpless little babies now, and you can do ever so much more when you are grown men and women that you should learn all you can about the right ways when you are young. We hope that you will come."

NO CHANCE FOR CORAL GARDENS LIQUOR LICENSE

No liquor license will be allowed at Coral Gardens, Kaneohe, by the owner of the premises, Mrs. H. L. Kerr. Mrs. Kerr makes this plain in a letter sent to the Star-Bulletin from Waiman, Kauai, in which she says:

"I have notified Mr. Mackaye, the lessee of the Coral Gardens, that I will not allow any liquor on my premises."

A. L. Mackaye recently left the management of the Gardens to become editor of the Hilo Tribune, and the report was afloat that parties were trying to secure the lease who would attempt to secure a liquor license for the resort.

BABY DAUGHTER OF MR. AND MRS. ST. GEORGE DIES IN SAN FRANCISCO

News was received by wireless yesterday by George Duncan, proprietor of Duncan's gymnasium, that the month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. St. George, formerly of Honolulu, died on Thursday night in San Francisco, where the family was residing. Inability to assimilate food and pneumonia were causes of death. The baby was Patricia, was christened Saturday and the ashes were buried in the cemetery.

COUSINS' SOCIETY GATHERS IN ITS ANNUAL AND UNIQUE MEETING

One Hundred and Thirty-two Present at Session Last Saturday

One hundred and thirty-two descendants of the pioneer missionaries to Hawaii, representing many of the leading families in the islands, gathered in a unique family reunion in the new Mission Memorial building last Saturday afternoon, the occasion being the annual meeting of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society, more commonly known as the Cousins' Society.

The representatives of 25 of the 41 pioneer missionaries to Hawaii were present at the meeting as children, grandchildren or great-grandchildren of the initial Christian workers. A large number of other descendants, residing on the other islands, were unable to attend the meeting.

An interesting feature of the meeting was the roll-call of mission families, the calling of the names of the original mission fathers being done by George P. Cooke. As each name was called the descendants of that particular missionary stood up to be counted.

The descendants of the late Amos S. Cooke won first place, with a total of 25 sions present. The family of the late Gerrit P. Judd came second, with 18 descendants in attendance. It developed here that some children had to be counted twice, for they were descendants of both Judd and Cooke. The count ran as follows: Of the first group of missionaries who came to Hawaii, Hiram Bingham was represented by five descendants; Asa Thurston by five.

Of the second group arriving in Hawaii, Artemus Bishop was represented by three descendants: Samuel Whitney by three and Levi Chamberlain by 11.

Of the third group, Lorin Andrews by two, Ephraim Clark three, P. J. Gulick three, and G. P. Judd 18.

Of the fourth group, Dwight Baldwin three.

Of the fifth group, William P. Alexander two; John S. Emerson six, Rev. Harvey R. Hitchcock four, Richard Armstrong three, and David B. Lyman two.

Of the sixth group, Lowell Smith by five.

Of the seventh, Edwin O. Hall by nine.

Of the eighth, S. N. Castle by eight, and Amos S. Cooke by 25.

Of the ninth, Elias Bond by two; John D. Paris by one, and William H. Rice by 11.

Of the tenth group, George B. Rowell one, and James W. Smith by four. Families whose names are among the best-known in the islands were represented at the meeting, including the Baldwins, Judds, Athertons, Castles, Gulicks, Alexanders, Wilcoxes, Chamberlains, Cookes, Doles, Parises and Smiths.

A very interesting address was delivered by W. R. Castle, the theme being the amusements of the missionary children half a century ago.

It was reported by the Chamberlain house committee that about $11,000 of $15,000 sought by the cousins has been raised. Half of this will be used to repair Old Mission House, and the balance is the Cousins' share in the building fund of the new mission.

The 1915 officers of the society were re-elected as follows: Miss Agnes E. Judd, president; George R. Carter, vice-president; Mrs. R. W. Andrews, secretary; Lyle A. Dickey, treasurer, and R. W. Andrews, recorder.

CHURCH MUST PUT ITSELF BEHIND LIVELIHOOD FOR HAWAII PEOPLE

Rev. John F. Cowan's Address
Feature of Mission Memorial Dedication

That "Our people on the soil before our star goes on the flag" must be taken as a slogan from now on by the church in Hawaii, which he referred to as "the residuary legate of the missionary fathers," was the principal advocacy made by Rev. John F. Cowan, pastor of the Kohala Union church, in his address at the dedication of the new Mission Memorial building in King street yesterday afternoon.

The services were well attended, those occupying seats on the platform being officers of the Hawaiian Board of Missions, members of the Cousins' Society and a representative gathering of descendants of the pioneer missionaries to Hawaii.

Following the doxology, Dr. Doremus Scudder delivered the invocation and Rev. A. V. Soares led in the Scripture reading. The Young People's League then sang an anthem, after which the services of dedication and prayer of dedication were conducted by Rev. O. H. Gulick, superintendent emeritus of the board. The response to the prayer was sung by the Young People's League. Following a hymn, the presentation of keys to the various board workers, and a selection by the board quartet, Rev. Mr. Cowan delivered his address.

Mr. Cowan sketched briefly the early history of the pioneer missionaries, making a plea for better homes and closer attention to church and mission work. His topic was, "A House Not Built With Hands."

"I believe that, to go on building this house not made with hands, the church must put itself squarely, positively and strenuously behind the policy of allotment of homesteads," he said, "in order that the first essential of home life—a bit of land on which to put a home—may be realized."

An interesting feature of the dedication service was the presentation of office keys to the various board workers, this ceremony informally opening the work in the new memorial building. Eleven presentations were made, the donors being descendants of the pioneer missionaries to Hawaii. In the evening a union service of Hawaiian churches was held in the auditorium, nearly 700 persons attending. Rev. Akiko Akana, president of the Christian Endeavor societies and superintendent of the Young People's League, presided. Special music was rendered by the league and by a chorus composed of 12 members of Company K of the National Guard. Addresses were delivered by Henry P. Judd, who spoke in English, and by Rev. William Kamau, pastor of the Hawaiian church at Pearl City.

LITTLE INTERVIEWS

—W. R. CHILTON: We didn't make any arrests last night. You can nearly always tell by the weather whether there are going to be any arrests of speeding automobilists. If it is cloudy and threatening, no joy riders. Vice versa, no joy riders arrested means that the weather conditions were unfavorable.
